TODAY'S READINGS

First Reading — After Adam and Eve eat of the forbidden fruit, the LORD God puts enmity between the serpent and the woman (Genesis 3:9-15).
Psalm — With the Lord there is mercy, and fullness of redemption (Psalm 130).
Second Reading — We have an eternal dwelling from God, not made with hands (2 Corinthians 4:13 — 5:1).
Gospel — “Whoever does the will of God is my brother and sister and mother” (Mark 3:20-35).

PROMISES

Today's liturgy is full of promises. The reading from Genesis promises a final triumph over the power of sin and a renewal of creation. The reading from 2 Corinthians promises that all who follow Christ will have to struggle. It also promises, however, that we can persevere if we but recognize that Christ is within us, renewing us daily, and giving us the courage and the strength we need to endure. The Gospel promises that doing God's will makes us “family” with Jesus, who forgives all sin and triumphs over evil.

Today might be a good day for us to make some promises as well. We can promise to stop kidding ourselves about our own tendencies to selfishness and sin. We can promise ourselves to believe—really believe—that while we are not sinless, we are forgiven. We can promise ourselves to combat evil and sin by acting as sisters and brothers not only to the Lord, but to one another as well.

Pope Francis' June Intention

That social networks may work towards that inclusiveness which respects other for their differences.

Congratulations:

To the recently baptized:
