Congregation of the Mission (Vincentians) Bicentennial Anniversary

2 0 1 7

After arriving in Baltimore, the Vincentian missionaries arrived in St. Louis in October 1817, a town of 2,000 residents. These 13 adventurers looked for a tract of land on which to build a new seminary. A colony of Catholics of English descent from the Barrens Settlement, about 80 miles to the south of St. Louis, offered the Vincentian Community a tract of land that was 640 acres. By now, the new bishop, Dubourg, had arrived in Louisiana. The seminary, named St. Mary of the Barrens, was established in what is now called, Perryville, Missouri.

During the building of the Barrens, Felix De Andreis remained in St. Louis. He helped evangelize African Americans there, both slave and free. On December 3, 1818, he opened the first American novitiate of the Congregation of the Mission in St. Louis, using a small house on church property next to the bishop's residence. He called it "Gethsemane." Around this time, he started teaching theology in a boy's school founded by Bishop Dubourg, which eventually was called St. Louis University.

From its inception, St. Mary's of the Barrens Seminary was meant to form men throughout the Louisiana Purchase for both the diocesan priesthood and the Congregation of the Mission.

Blessed are they who keep the word with a generous heart and yield a generous harvest through it. Lk. 8:15

Parish Social Teaching Committee Fr. Jimmy Jeanfrau will be visit St. Joseph Church on Sunday August 13 to share with us about the Pontifical Mission Societies, and how our archdiocese is called to and is participating in the mission of worldwide church in some of the most remote places. Fr. Jimmy has lived in and participated in the mission in Bolivia and is the Director of Missions in New Orleans. A special collection for the national office will be taken to assist with the international missions. Welcome Fr. Jimmy!

RCIA Are you interested in studying the Catholic Faith? Have you ever considered joining the Church? Have you left the church or been away for some years and would like to return and deepen your faith? If you or someone you know is interested in discerning whether God is calling you to a fuller life of faith and possible membership in the Catholic Church, please speak to Fr. Tom or Tasheena Butler, or call the parish office. RCIA begins on Thurs., August 24, 2017."

TODAY'S READINGS

First Reading — I saw one like a Son of man coming on the clouds of heaven (Daniel 7:9-10, 13-14).

Psalm — The Lord is king, the most high over all the earth (Psalm 97).

Second Reading — Be attentive to the prophetic message, as to a lamp shining in a dark place (2 Peter 1:16-19).

Gospel — Jesus was transfigured, and his clothes became white as light (Matthew 17:1-9).

EYEWITNESSES

Today, the Feast of the Transfiguration of the Lord, is a day of eyewitness accounts. The first, a vision reported by the prophet Daniel, was well known to Jesus and his apostles. The vision account was written in mystical, figurative language. It is a vision of heaven, powerful and memorable. There are flames of fire, burning wheels, the Ancient One, and a Son of Man. Clearly, Daniel saw something...in a dream? Was it real?

Peter wants no such confusion about his vision! We are told in today's Gospel what he and his friends James and John saw when they went up on the mountain with Jesus one day. Jesus warned the three witnesses to tell no one until "the Son of Man has been raised from the dead." Peter gives his own account of the Transfiguration of Jesus in his second letter to the church. He writes as an eyewitness. He reports this message from God concerning Jesus: "This is my Son, my beloved, with whom I am well pleased," and he assures us that the message is "altogether reliable"
